

Seminar on SCIENTIFIC INFORMATION: AGRICULTURE & NUTRITION

INTRODUCTION

The Seminar on Scientific Information: Agriculture & Nutrition is organized by Perpustakaan Sultan Abdul Samad (PSAS), UPM together with Global Open Data for Agriculture and Nutrition (GODAN) who is supported by secretariat hosted by CABI in Wallingford, UK. The Seminar will be highlighting three specific ways how open data can help solve practical problems in the agriculture and nutrition sectors such as:

- I. Enabling more efficient and effective decision making
- II. Fostering innovation that everyone can benefit from
- III. Driving organisational and sector change through transparency

OBJECTIVES

This seminar will help participants to:

- I. Know the various local and international resources available in the areas of agriculture and nutrition
- II. Share the best practices in capturing, organizing, sharing and preserving agriculture and nutrition information

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Lecturers, researchers, science officers, students and those interested in gathering agriculture and nutrition information.
